Traveling with Frontier Airlines can be an affordable and convenient way to reach your destination, but one of the most common issues passengers face is realizing that the name on their ticket is incorrect. Whether it's a small typo, a missing middle name, or a legal name change due to marriage or divorce, the accuracy of your name on your Frontier Airlines ticket is crucial. Many travelers ask: how can your Frontier name be changed?

  +1-877-(245)-9769 (USA) or +1-855-(203)-0772

Frontier Airlines, like other carriers, follows strict TSA and aviation security regulations. The name on your ticket must match the name on your government-issued ID exactly. Even a minor discrepancy can cause problems at check-in or security. That's why Frontier has specific policies for name corrections and changes.

Why Name Accuracy Matters on Frontier Airlines Tickets

The Transportation Security Administration requires airlines to submit passenger information before flights. If your name does not match your ID, you may be denied boarding. Frontier Airlines enforces this rule to ensure compliance and protect passengers from fraud.

  +1-877-(245)-9769 (USA) or +1-855-(203)-0772

This means that while Frontier does not allow tickets to be transferred to another person, they do allow corrections for minor errors. Understanding the difference between a name change and a name correction is essential.

Name Change vs. Name Correction on Frontier Airlines

A name change refers to transferring a ticket to a completely different person, which Frontier Airlines does not permit. A name correction refers to fixing spelling mistakes, adjusting initials, or updating your name to match your ID.

☎☎ +1-877-(245)-9769 (USA) or +1-855-(203)-0772

For example, if your ticket says “Jonh Doe” instead of “John Doe,” Frontier can correct this. If your legal name is “Katherine” but you booked under “Katie,” you may need to request a correction.
